GREECE FORCED TO YIELD TO ALLIES DEMANDS ARE MET

Premier Skouloudis and Cabinet Resign; Troops Guard City But People Calm

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
ATHENS, Greece, June 22.—Under the heavy pressure of the Entente Allies, Greece has been forced to accept unreservedly the demands presented today in a joint note from Great Britain, France and Russia.

Premier Skouloudis has announced the resignation of himself and his associates in the ministry. All troops in the city were ordered under arms, in fear of an outbreak, but the people are calm.

PARIS, France, June 22.—An Allied fleet has been ordered to Piraeus, probably in support of a landing party.

(The demands of the Allies have to do with Greece's aid in the Balkan campaign; with the establishment of naval and land bases on Greek soil; and with the movement of the Greek army should the Teutons and Bulgarians invade the country and menace the Allies. Premier Skouloudis has opposed a yielding. Former Premier Venizelos favored ceding Greece's lot with the Allies. Piraeus is near Athens.)

GERMAN SUBMARINE SLIPS ALLIES' PATROL WITH A LETTER FROM THE KAISER

MADRID, Spain, June 22.—A German submarine has arrived at Cartagena, and its officers have disembarked with a confidential letter from the Kaiser to King Alfonso.

RUSSIANS CHECKED AND IN PLACES DRIVEN BACK

BERLIN, Germany, June 22.—The Russians have been repulsed north of Przhevalka and pushed back on both sides of the Turia river. They are also held in check in the Kolki district and northwest of Lutsk.

TEUTONS GAIN FRONT LINE OF VERDUN TRENCH

PARIS, France, June 22.—The Germans today succeeded in capturing a front line of trenches between Fumin Wood and Chenois, on the Verdun sector.

FINDS HAWAIIAN VILLAGE BETTER THAN EXHIBITS

That the Pan-Pacific Hawaiian exhibit at the San Diego Exposition would be much more effective if it could be moved to the Hawaiian Village, a concession at the fair, and shown there is the opinion of Ernest Kaai, who returned to Honolulu on the Matsonia last evening.

"The Hawaiian Village at the San Diego fair is much more interesting than the Hawaiian exhibit being shown in the Pan-Pacific building," said Mr. Kaai. "At the exhibit there is no music, and the exhibits are not so thorough nor as interesting as at the Hawaiian Village. The only drawback to the village is that it is a concession and liquor is sold there."

Mr. Kaai said attendance at the San Diego exposition is small, hardly more than 500 persons a day. He said the Hawaiian Village has a remarkably fine reproduction of Diamond Head. Mr. Kaai has been ill, and is recuperating from a recent operation in San Francisco for stomach trouble.

"Punahou Day" Brings Old Folks and Young Together in Jollity on Campus

F. C. Atherton, Chairman of Special Finance Committee, Reports on Notable Gifts and Pledges—Reception and Olden Games in Morning, Picnic Lunch at Noon, and Afternoon Devoted to Addresses and Exhibition of Student Activities

"Punahou Day," the closing event of the three-day celebration of Punahou's 75th anniversary, is made notable by the announcement of gifts and pledges to the venerable institution amounting to more than $350,000. There is hope that this amount will be substantially increased before the shadows of night fall over the beautiful campus and the hundreds of Punahou folk, old and young, who are assembled today, regretfully leave the gates of the school whose achievements they are commemorating.

Frank C. Atherton, chairman of the corporation's committee on increasing the endowment, in a report read this afternoon to the general Punahou meeting assembled on the campus told of gifts and pledges which at 9 o'clock this morning had reached $249,254.80. At 9 o'clock pledges were still coming in, and there is hope that the amount may reach $400,000. Mr. Atherton's full report is given in another column.

"Punahou spirit is running high all through the day. With a reception and old-time games this morning, the picnic lunch in the open at noon, and the general Punahou meeting this afternoon, alumni, faculty, students, distinguished guests and friends of the school and its work are reviving days of long ago and living with delight the activities of the present."

The four features of the Punahou meeting this afternoon are the presentation to the assembly of "Punahou's Oldest Graduate and Her Youngest Son," Rev. O. H. Gulick and little Deane Howland, by Cyril F. Damon for president Rawlins of the alumni association; the address of Mrs. W. J. Forbes as president of the Mothers' Association, on "The Best of Our Children"; Mr. Atherton's financial report; and the splendidly eloquent and illuminating address by Lorrin A. Thurston on "Punahou's Message, the Meaning of 75 Years," an address which rang with inspiration and constructive suggestion.

BEACH WALK IMPROVEMENT BIDS WILL OPEN TOMORROW

Bids on the Beach Walk improvement project will be opened at noon tomorrow in the office of the county clerk. Four sets of plans and specifications have been taken out; one each by F. R. Ritchie of San Francisco, the Lord-Young Engineering Co., J. L. Young and William Cullen.

HAWAII'S G. O. P. FIGHT TO REGAIN DELEGATION TOLD

Congressman McKinley, Holding Rice's Proxy, Helps Territory's Cause

By JOSEPH B. FAIRINGTON
(Star-Bulletin Correspondent at the Chicago National Convention)
CHICAGO, Ill., June 10.—Hawaii will be considered a full-fledged territory and not a possession of the United States in future apportionment of votes in the national republican convention to nominate a candidate for president. Previously the Territory of Hawaii has been recorded as the Hawaiian Islands in the national committee, but through an amendment to a motion made by the credentials committee in its report to the convention recommending that Hawaii, Alaska and the Philippines be given two votes apiece, Delegate to Congress J. K. Kahanamoku had "Hawaiian Islands" changed to "Territory of Hawaii."

This change assures Hawaii of its vote in future national conventions and may possibly lay the way for the increase of the island representation and vote from two to six.

Through the efforts of the Alaskan, Philippine and Hawaiian delegations, a clause calling for a grant of two votes in the national convention to Hawaii in succeeding conventions was placed in the recommendations of the committee on rules to the convention. The convention adopted the report, again assuring the islands of a vote in the future.

The two votes which had been refused Hawaii in the reapportionment of delegates to the national convention of this year were granted to the islands upon the adoption of recommendations of the credentials committee by the convention at its second meeting.

Through the efforts of the Hawaiian delegation and Henry J. Lyman, who served as the committeeman from Hawaii on the resolutions committee, a plank stating that all officials of a territory shall be bona fide residents of the territory in which their work is to be performed was incorporated into the republican platform. There was no contest in the adoption of this plank.

With the first meetings of the national committee a few days before the opening of the convention, the Philippine delegation opened the fight for the recovery of the two votes which had been refused the Philippines, Alaska and Hawaii in the reapportionment of delegates to the convention this year. Congressman W. B.

FIGHT REGARDED AS INCIDENT OF SUBORDINATES; CONGRESS TO RUSH MILITIA ENROLMENT

Representative Hay to Hurry Passage of Measure—Mexicans Claim Americans Heaviest Losers in Fight—Captain Lewis S. Morey, 10th Cavalry, Reported Killed—U. S. Guns Mounted at El Paso

(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless)
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 22.—With reports of 12 Americans known to be killed in the clash of the 10th Cavalry and Carranzista troops at Carrizal late yesterday, the battle between Americans and Mexicans has not changed the administration's policy.

No decision as to action will be taken until the war department and the White House are in receipt of a definite detailed report from Gen. Pershing, commanding the American punitive expedition.

The fight is regarded as an incident for which subordinate commanders are responsible, it is stated in official circles, and it not likely to precipitate hostilities.

Today Dr. Eliseo Arredondo, the Mexican ambassador, handed to Secretary Lansing an official communication from the Mexican foreign office announcing the clash of the troops and saying that the de facto government finds it difficult to understand why the Americans were so distant from their base.

Measure Drafting National Guard Into Service Now Being Rushed

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 22.—While the clash of troops at Carrizal yesterday and the killing of American soldiers has not precipitated any action by the administration, it has plainly operated to hasten action on the legislation necessary to draft the national guard organizations into the federal army.

A resolution authorizing the president to draft the guardsmen immediately into the regular ranks has been drawn up and was submitted to Secretary of War Baker this morning. Chairman Hay of the house committee on military affairs will press tomorrow for its immediate passage.

Officials here make no effort to conceal their anxiety over the situation. They find it difficult to predict any alternative but organized hostilities.

Mexicans Claim Their Losses In Battle Less Than Americans'

EL PASO, Tex., June 22.—According to a report received at the Mexican consulate here today, the Americans were the heaviest losers in the Carrizal battle. The Mexicans claim that their loss was 14 killed and 30 wounded.

The report says that 12 Americans are known to have been killed, 17 made prisoners and an unknown number wounded.

Both commanders of the detachments were killed. The Mexican general, Felix Gomez, was among the slain, while the commander of the U. S. troops is believed to have been Capt. Lewis S. Morey, 10th Cavalry. Capt. Morey's mission in the Carrizal district is still unexplained.

Following the receipt here of the news of the battle, the garrison at Juarez began evacuation and in a short time was marching out of the city, with a long line of impediments. This evacuation it is understood the Mexicans deemed advisable because an American battery of 4.7 guns, capable of throwing 60-pound explosives six miles, was placed today in a position commanding the Juarez barracks.

Pershing Sends More Cavalry to Support 10th in Isolated Place

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 22.—Gen. Pershing reported to Gen. Funston this afternoon that he had received no report on the fight at Carrizal but that on receipt of the first news regarding it he had sent two squadrons of the 11th Cavalry with instructions to get in touch with the 10th Cavalry.

NACO, Arizona, June 22.—William Humphrey, a half-breed Mexican employed at the waterworks here, shot and killed one American soldier and wounded three today. He opened fire on members of Company E, 14th Infantry, while they were changing guard. Humphrey was overpowered and is in custody.

How Fight Started Not Known; Rumor Mexicans Asked a Parley

EL PASO, Texas, June 22.—Official details of the fighting between a patrol of the 10th Cavalry and a body of Carranzista troops under the command of Gen. Gomez, near the little town of Carrizal, nine miles south of Villa Ahumada, yesterday are still lacking.

The engagement took place yesterday morning near the Santo Domingo cattle ranch, which is not far from Carrizal, and nine miles from the Mexican field headquarters, and about 90 miles south of the border. The attack came as a surprise to the American command. Some reports say the Yankees were ambushed by the Mexicans. The fight lasted for more than an hour, although the Mexicans are said to have had a machine gun ambushed in a position which enabled them to sweep the American line from end to end.

In spite of this the negro troops of the 10th charged twice, and finally one of them succeeded in getting near enough to the Mexican line to pistol the Carranza commander, Gen. Felix Gomez.

The first reports of the clash between the Mexicans and the Americans became known here when J. C. Hubble, an American, who had seen the bodies of a number of Mexicans, while returning to the border, learned some of the details of the
